WILSON DEMANDS OPEN ASSURANCE

That American Lives Be Safeguarded.

SPEAKS FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE
Insists On Stand Of Gover-
ment In Recent Note To Berlin.

ASKS SOME CHARGES PROVEN

Washington, June 10.—The United States in its latest note to Germany made public to-night formally asks the Imperial Government for assurance that measures hereafter will be adopted to safeguard "American lives and American ships" on the high seas. The alternative in case of refusal is not stated.

Text Of American Note.

The text of the note follows:

"The Secretary of State ad interim to the American Ambassador at Berlin:—

"Department of State, Washington, June 9, 1915.—American Ambassador, Berlin:—You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"In compliance with Your Excellency's request, I did not fail to transmit to my Government immediately upon their receipt your note of May 28, in reply to my note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 1, setting forth the conclusions so far reached by the Imperial German Government concerning the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Guiflight. I am now instructed by my Government to communicate the following in reply:

"The Government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition by the Imperial German Government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and the Guiflight, of the principle of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships and the frank willingness of the Imperial German Government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships which have not been guilty of any hostile act by German air craft of vessels of war is satisfactorily established; and the Government of the United States will in due course lay before the Imperial German Government, as it requests, full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

"With regard to the sinking of the steamer Florida, by which an American citizen lost his life, the Government of the United States is surprised to find the Imperial German Government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantman to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligation of the officers seeking to make the capture in respect of the safety of the lives of those on board the merchantman, although the vessel has ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed. These are not new circumstances. They have been in the minds of statesmen and of international jurists throughout the development of naval warfare, and the Government of the United States does not understand that they have ever been held to alter the principles of humanity upon which it has insisted. Nothing but actual forcible resistance or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman, has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew. The Government of the United States, however, does not understand that the Imperial German Government is seeking in this case to relieve itself of liability, but only intends to set forth the circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to allow himself to be hurried into the course which he took.

"Your Excellency's note, in discussing the loss of American lives resulting from the sinking of the steamer Lusitania, adverts at some length to certain information which the Imperial German Government has received with regard to the character and outfit of that vessel, and Your Excellency expresses the fear that this information may not have been brought to the attention of the Government of the United States. It is stated in the note that the Lusitania was undoubtedly equipped with masked guns, supplied with trained gunners and special ammunition, transporting troops from Canada, carrying a cargo not permitted under the laws of the United States to a vessel also carrying passengers, and serving, in virtual effect, as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain.

"Fortunately these are matters concerning which the Government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German Government official information. Of the facts alleged in Your Excellency's note, if true, the Government of the United States would have been bound to take official cognizance in performing its recognized duty as a neutral Power and in enforcing its national laws. It was its duty to see to it that the Lusitania was not armed for offensive action; that she was not serving as a transport; that she did not carry a cargo prohibited by the statutes of the United States, and that, if in fact she was a naval vessel of Great Britain, she should not receive clearance as merchantman; and it performed that duty and enforced its statutes with scrupulous vigilance through its regularly constituted officials. It is able, therefore, to assure the Imperial German Government that it has been misinformed. If the Imperial German Government should deem itself to be in possession of convincing evidence that the officials of the Government of the United States did not perform these duties with thoroughness, the Government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

"Whatever may be the contentions of the Imperial German Government regarding the carriage of contraband of war on board the Lusitania, or regarding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this Government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel.

"But the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which lift it, as the Imperial German Government will no doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy. Whatever be the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers, and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk without so much as a challenge or a warning, and that men, women and children were sent to their death in circumstances unparalleled in modern warfare.

"The fact that more than one hundred American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the Government of the United States to speak of these things and once more, with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the imperial German Government to the grave responsibility which the Government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the indisputable principle upon which that responsibility rests.

"The Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce, it is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the rights of humanity, which every government honors itself in respecting and which no government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority.

"Only her actual resistance to capture or her refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued on August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Admiralty to its commanders at sea to have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle that the United States must stand.

"Your Excellency's note, in discussing the loss of American lives resulting from the sinking of the steamer Lusitania, adverts at some length to certain information which the Imperial German Government has received with regard to the character and outfit of that vessel, and Your Excellency expresses the fear that this information may not

States is happy to observe that Your Excellency's note closes with the intimation that the Imperial German Government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the Government of Great Britain, by which the character and conditions of the war upon the sea may be changed. The Government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either Government any information or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey and cordially invites the Imperial German Government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in anything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict.

"In the meantime, whatever arrangement may happily be made between the parties to the war, and whatever may in the opinion of the Imperial German Government have been the provocation or the circumstantial justification for the past acts of its commanders at sea, the Government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the Government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded.

"The Government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German Government on the 15th day of May, and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law, and the ancient friendship of the German Nation.

"The Government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand the Imperial German Government to question those rights. It understands it, also, to accept as established beyond question the principle that the lives of noncombatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman, and to recognize the obligation to take sufficient precaution to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact of belligerent nationality or is in fact carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag.

"The Government of the United States therefore deems it reasonable to expect that the Imperial German Government will adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice in respect to the safeguarding of American lives and American ships, and asks for assurances that this will be done.

ROBERT LANSING,
Secretary of State ad Interim.

EXPECT WEEK OF DELAY IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, June 14.—Several weeks probably will be allowed to pass before the United States takes any further step in the development of its policy toward Mexico as announced by President Wilson in his recent statement warning the factions leaders to "accommodate their differences" and restore peace to the famine-threatened country.

In the meantime replies from Villa and Carranza will be read, the Government will watch with interest the efforts of the belligerent factions to hurry a settlement of their differences on the battlefield and the American Red Cross will go ahead with its work of relieving starving noncombatants.

It is regarded as probable that the next action by the United States will not be taken until a permanent successor to Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State has been named.

Casualties Five Millions.
Amsterdam, June 12.—The North German Gazette estimates the losses of the Allies in killed, wounded and prisoners at 5,000,000 in the ten months of war.

They are divided as follows: Russia, 3,000,000; France, 1,500,000; and the remainder British, Belgian and Serbian.

WEBB-KENYON LAW IS DEALT BLOW

By a Decision in the Supreme Court.

INTERSTATE LIQUOR SHIPMENT

Is Permissible—Fail To Pass On Constitutionality Of the Law.

KENTUCKY CASE IS DECIDED

Washington, June 14.—Holding that the Webb-Kenyon liquor law did not apply to interstate shipments of liquor designed for personal use, the Supreme Court to-day overruled the conviction of the Adams Express Company in the Kentucky courts for transporting liquor from Tennessee to consignees in Whitley county, Ky.

The court merely determined that the law did not apply to shipments of this kind. It did not pass on the ultimate constitutionality of the law.

After the decision in the Kentucky case, counsel for a distilling company concerned in the West Virginia cases obtained leave to file copies of a law passed by the West Virginia Legislature May 24, 1915, amending previous legislation so as to provide expressly that it was unlawful to transport liquor for personal use in the state. Counsel in a brief urged that was an indication that the law previous to that time did not prohibit such transportation. It was urged the amendment was unconstitutional.

Twenty-four days after the law was enacted by Congress over President Taft's veto, a grand jury in Whitley county, Ky., a "dry county," indicted the Adams Express Company for carrying intoxicating liquor from Tennessee into Whitley county, in violation of the Kentucky statute making it unlawful to carry liquor into "dry territory." The company was then fined $50, so small a fine that it could not appeal to the higher Kentucky courts, so an appeal was taken directly to the United States Supreme Court.

Six weeks before the passage of the law, however, West Virginia had enacted a state prohibition law. Shortly after it became effective in July, 1914, the James Clark Distilling Company, of Cumberland, Md., received by mail a written order from Parsons, W. Va., for alcohol for personal use. The company offered the American Express Company the liquor but it refused to carry it because the West Virginia State courts had already enjoined it from transporting liquor to Parsons, except on certain conditions. The distilling company thereupon brought suit for an injunction to compel the express company to carry the liquor. The injunction was refused, and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court.

BOY DRAGGED TO DEATH
BY A RUNAWAY MULE

Owensboro, Ky., June 11.—Bryan Ashby, 16 years old, was dragged to his death this morning when he fell from a mule which he was riding and his foot caught in the trace chain. The young man was plowing on the farm of his father, William Ashby, and when the dinner bell rang he unhitched the mule and started to the house. The animal became frightened and ran away. The boy's foot caught in the trace and he was dragged a great distance over the field. His skull was crushed and he was dead when a physician reached his side.

BANK CONSOLIDATION AT GREENVILLE SOON

Greenville, Ky., June 12.—A number of financial transactions of large moment to the business interests of Muhlenberg county have been consummated here within the last few days, the most important of which is the absorption of the Muhlenberg County Savings Bank by the First National Bank of this place. On July 1 the Muhlenberg County Savings Bank, an institution with $26,000 capital stock and $12,500 surplus, will go out of business, turning its assets over to the First National Bank. By the arrangement the stockholders of the savings bank will become stockholders of the First National, which will have a capital of $40,000 and a surplus of $30,000, with deposits of more than $500,000.

The First National Bank is one of the few honor roll banks in Kentucky. W. A. Wickliffe is president and John T. Reynolds, Jr., is cashier. J. L. Rogers is president of the Muhlenberg County Savings Bank. Some of the directors of the Muhlenberg County Savings Bank will have places in the directorate of the First National. The only other banking institution in Greenville is the Farmers' State.

LAND OWNER'S RIGHTS IN DRAINAGE PROCEEDINGS

Frankfort, Ky., June 11.—The Court of Appeals to-day in an opinion by Judge Hurt, reversing the Ohio County Circuit Court in the case of W. H. Williams against County Judge R. R. Wedding, held that "insofar as Section 32 of the drainage act of 1912 undertakes to deny to a landowner all remedy for any substantial wrong that is attempted to be perpetrated on him by the collection of an improper assessment" made against his lands, because he refuses to pay the wrong assessment in thirty days and assumes that for that reason he has agreed to pay it in ten annual installments; and insofar as Section 49 undertakes to deny any remedy to a landowner except the remedies provided by the act for an illegal assessment made against him, and denies him remedy against any wrong done him or attempted to be done him after transfer of proceedings to the Board of Drainage Commissioners, is invalid.

The act provides for public drainage ditches and gives a remedy to the landowners to protect their rights up to the time the land is viewed and turned over to the commissioners. The court held that he still has his equitable remedies in court for any wrong done him after that time.

Williams, a landowner, sued for an injunction to prevent entry upon his land, the letting of the contract to ditch and other proceedings carrying out a judgment of the County Court.

A demurrer was sustained to his petition, but the Court of Appeals said his petition set up a cause of action, and remanded the case. Barnes & Smith represent Appellant and Woodward, Heavrin & Kirk, Appellees.

MORROW TO BE NOMINEE ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

Louisville, Ky., June 12.—Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, has the inside track of the party organization for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, according to the returns received from the various county delegations throughout the State to-day.

While many Kentucky county conventions to-day sent uninstructed delegates to the State platform convention, to be held at Lexington Tuesday, the sentiment of the organization is in favor of Morrow.

The defeat of a State-wide prohibition plank in the State platform is foreshadowed. Most of the counties instructed their delegates to vote against the State-wide plan, and to favor a county unit law.

Glasgow, Ky., June 12.—A county teachers' examination was held in Burkesville a few days ago and there were thirty-two who took the examination. Every one failed to make a grade sufficient for a certificate to teach. This never occurred in this county before.

The Crawfish Sign.

Old people who watch signs in discerning the weather for the future are confident that we are to have a wet summer. The predictions are based upon the fact that crawfish are not building mounds this spring, but end the holes abruptly at the top of the ground. This sign is relied upon absolutely by many old people and according to them is unfailing. In seasons when the weather is to be dry the crawfish build high mounds. By the fact that they have no mounds at all this spring it is indicated that the summer will be exceedingly wet. [Columbia News.]

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IN SESSION

The Ohio County Sunday School Convention met in Hartford at the Methodist church last week. Thursday night Rev. T. C. Gebauer, State worker, gave a very interesting talk on the World's S. S. Convention. He was present Friday and spoke very interestingly on having the proper aim in Sunday School work. J. D. Baugh emphasized variety in opening and closing school. This was followed by a general discussion of difficulties and successes.

Mr. N. A. Palmer read a splendid paper on "Some of My Ideas," which was ordered published.

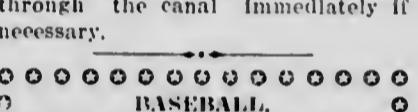

A splendid lunch was served in the church basement by the committee from Hartford school and others.

After an interesting round table conducted by the State worker, the following officers were elected: J. D. Baugh, Pres.; E. W. Ford, V. P.; A. D. Kirk, Sec'y.; Mrs. E. M. Morton, Primary Work; Miss Mary Marks, Seconday; J. H. Williams, Teacher Training; M. L. Henrion, Adult; Rev. R. D. Bennett, Temperance; Mrs. S. A. Bratcher, Home Department.

THE CANAL DEFENSES ARE DEEMED ADEQUATE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—The defenses of the Panama Canal are such that no hostile fleet could pass through the waterway, according to a statement made by Major Gen. George Goethals, Governor of the Canal Zone, who was in Indianapolis yesterday to appear before the Federal grand jury which is investigating alleged frauds in the conduct of the office of John Burke, manager of the commissary department of the Panama Railroad.

Gen. Goethals added that the United States fleet could pass through the canal immediately if necessary.

Rockport, Ky., June 11.—Rockport defeated Nelson this afternoon by the score of 3 to 2 in a hot 5-inning game, stopped by rain. Nelson scored once in the first and third. Rockport made all her scores in the fifth on Sheffield's double, B. McDougall's single, Taylor's single and Green's double, followed by N. McDougall's scratch hit to short. The feature of the game was B. McDougall's pitching in the fifth inning. Batteries—Rockport, B. McDougall and Brownling; Nelson, F. John and Warner. Umpire, Reeneer.

Rockport, Ky., June 12.—The Rockport second team beat Sunnyside by the score of 24 to 3 to-day. The game was without interest except for the good pitching of Sheffield. After the fifth inning a number of first team players went in with Sunnyside, but it was too late to save the game. Batteries—Sheffield and Brownling; Maddox, Ralph and Childress.

IT HAS COME; I COULD NOT HELP IT! Like a stroke of lightning from a clear sky comes the startling announcement that the entire $10,000 stock of the J. T. VINSON & SON'S DEPARTMENT STORE must be closed out in 15 days. The crucial moment has arrived—that is the situation here now. The stringency of the money market has created a condition which has never occurred before. Circumstances have so shaped themselves that I am forced to reduce my stock. I must raise money at all hazards. With a gigantic stock on hand I have struggled against a backward season which now stares me in the face. But all in vain. My entire capital is tied up in merchandise; we therefore need relief. Heroic sacrifices are sometimes necessary. This is one of the times. We meet the situation promptly and emphatically. The urgent demand for money brought this gigantic money-saving Sale on us, which we pass along to you. The enormity of our stock—the vital danger and burden it applies at this critical financial stagnation forces us to make the sacrifice. Notwithstanding our reputation as givers of the best values, we now give an extra twirl to the wheel of trade by offering such astonishing values that competition is not even attempted. It is not necessary to go into details relative to the high-class merchandise we carry, for every man, woman and child is well aware of the fact that anything bought from us was the best money could buy.

BRYAN GETS OUT OF THE CABINET

On Account Of the Note To Germany.

HIS ACT CREATES SENSATION

President Accepts Resignation and Both Exchange Courteous Letters.

ACUTE SITUATION DEVELOPS

Washington, June 8.—William Jennings Bryan, three times Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States, and author of nearly thirty peace treaties with the principal nations of the world, resigned to-day as Secretary of State as a dramatic sequel to his disagreement with President Wilson over the Government's policy toward Germany.

The resignation was accepted by the President. The Cabinet then approved the response which had been prepared to the German reply to the Lusitania note. Acting Secretary Robert Lansing will sign the document, and to-morrow it will be cabled to Berlin.

Secretary Bryan will return to private life to-morrow, when his resignation takes effect. It was learned that he intends to continue his political support of the President.

Rather than sign the document which he believed might possibly draw the United States into war, Mr. Bryan submitted his resignation in a letter declaring that "the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the Cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war."

The President accepted the resignation in a letter of regret, tinged with deep personal feeling of affection. The letters constituting the official announcement of Mr. Bryan's departure from the Cabinet to private life were made public at the White House at 6 o'clock to-night. They follow:

Bryan's Letter.

"My Dear Mr. President: It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of Secretary of State with which you honored me at the beginning of your administration.

"Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives, you have prepared for transmission to the German Government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country, and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the Cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war.

"I, therefore, respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour.

"All like desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen, we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed.

"It falls to your lot to speak officially for this nation; I consider it to be none the less my duty to endeavor as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use.

"In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the past two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction which it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the State Department, and to thank you for the courtesies extended. With the heartfelt good wishes for your personal welfare and for the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President,

Very truly yours,

"W. J. BRYAN.

President's Reply.

The President's letter to Mr. Bryan was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Bryan:

"I accept your resignation only because you insist upon its acceptance and I accept it with much more than deep regret—with a feeling of personal sorrow. Our two years of close association have been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and of public policy until now; your support of the work and purposes of the administration has been generous and loyal beyond praise; your devotion to the duties of your great office and your eagerness to take advantage of every great opportunity for service it offered has been an example to the rest of us; you have earned our affectionate admiration and friendship. Even now we are not separated in the object we seek, but only in the method by which we seek it.

"It is for these reasons my feeling about your retirement from the Secretaryship of State goes so much deeper than regret. I sincerely deplore it. Our objects are the same and we ought to pursue them together. I yield to your desire only because I must and wish to bid you God-speed in the parting. We shall continue to work for the same causes even when we do not work in the same way.

"With affectionate regard, sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON."

Dramatically the official relation of Mr. Bryan with the Administration of the man whose nomination he assisted so materially in bringing about at the Baltimore convention of 1912 came to an end. It ceased a sensation in the National Capital, scarcely paralleled in recent years. Ambassadors, Ministers and diplomats from foreign lands, officials of every rank and station, heard the news as it was flashed by newspaper extras to-night. They interpreted variously its effect on the delicate situation that had arisen between Germany and the United States. The resignation of the stanchest advocates of peace in the President's official family spread broadcast the belief that the policy of the United States as definitely determined upon would assert and defend the rights of the United States in any eventuality that might arise.

GENERAL EQUIPMENT FOR THE GERMAN ARMY

Is Being Sent In Large Quantities From United States.

New York, June 12.—Food supplies and equipment for the German army are being sent in large quantities from this country by way of South American ports, and thence through neutral countries, according to information received in this city by agents of the United States Government.

Information has been received showing that large quantities of powder, cartridges, small arms, field pieces, equipment of all kinds, accoutrements and food supplies in enormous quantities have been sent to the German army or to German ports.

At the beginning of the war the German raiders aided greatly in the forwarding of the cargoes, but since they have been driven from the South seas the traffic has been carried on through merchant ships of neutral countries.

In every instance the procedure has been for cargoes to be consigned to persons on both coasts of South America. Here they are stored away long enough to disarm suspicion. Within a month or two, according to the character of the cargo, it has been reconsigned to merchants or agents in neutral countries—Denmark, Holland, Norway and Sweden.

In some cases goods were sent to Spain and Portugal and from there transhipped through Italy and thus to the interior of Germany.

Italy, having entered the war, has closed one route, but Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Norway are still prolific sources of supply for the Germans.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect The Head
 Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE QUININE is better than ordinary quinine and does not produce headache or ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, 25c.

Mending of Knots
 A statute knot or nautical mile is 6,082.68 feet. This was determined as follows: The circumference of the earth is divided into 360 degrees, each degree containing 60 knots, making 60x360, or 21,600 knots in the earth's circumference. There are 131,385,456 feet in the earth's circumference, consequently, if 21,600 knots equal 131,385,456, then one knot equals the quotient obtained by dividing 131,385,456 by 21,600, which is 6,082.66 feet. As there are 5,280 feet in a land mile, a knot is 1.151 miles.

BABE WITH TWO HEADS, FOUR ARMS, THREE LEGS

Chicago, June 12.—A babe with two perfectly formed heads, four arms and three legs was born here. The body was examined by members of the Chicago Medical Society.

"The mother, who is doing well, has borne five other children, all of whom are perfect," said Dr. Joseph Le Lea.

The heads of the child rise out of two pair shoulders, supported by a single trunk. All four hands and two of the feet are normally perfect. The third leg is embryonic.

Constipation Causes Most Ills.
 Accumulated waste in your thirty feet of bowels causes absorption of poisons, tends to produce fevers, upsets digestion. You belch gas, feel irritable, almost cranky. It isn't you—it's your condition. Eliminate this poisonous waste by taking one or two of Dr. King's New Life Pill to-night. Enjoy a full, free bowel movement in the morning—you feel so great. Get an original bottle, containing 36 pills, from your druggist to-day for 25c.

Everybody's Doing It.
 Eleven countries of Europe with a population of 273,500,000 are now at war. Ten small countries with 37,500,000 population are not yet involved. These are Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Albania. Several of them are almost sure to be drawn in at an early date.

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly
 The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTLESS chili TONIC, drives off Malaria, enriches the blood and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children, 50c.

Sometimes it is rather exasperating to a rich woman to live in a climate where heavy furs make her too hot.

Watch Your Children
 Often children do not let parents know they are constipated. They fear something distasteful. They will like Rexall Orderlies—a mild laxative that tastes like sugar. Sold only by us, 10 cents.

There Is No Question
 but that indigestion and the distressed feeling which always goes with it can be promptly relieved by taking a Rexall Dyspepsia Tablet, before and after each meal. 25c a box.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, London, from Amsterdam says that news of the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan created a deep stir in Berlin. It also adds that "The foreign office ordered the newspapers to refrain from commenting on the resignation until further notice." We do things differently in free America, for this is a country of open expression and unbridled press.

Inventor Edison says if he cared to do so he could invent devices more death-dealing than anything now used by the belligerent nations at war. Nobody doubts the ability of this inventive genius to do so. He gave as his reason for not exercising his brain along this line that he is a man of peace and that he does not want to be credited with any life-taking apparatus. Would that all inventors were like minded.

For the life of us we cannot see what there is in President Wilson's note to Germany which Mr. Bryan objected to and which constrained him not to sign it. The document is strong and convincing but not dogmatic nor daring. It is clothed in the calm, cold logic of diplomatic courtesy, but none the less definite, though mild, in its contentions. It does not breathe the spirit of war as an alternative. Seems like Mr. Bryan might have signed it very conscientiously.

Twenty or thirty years hence the boys who now inhabit our homes and pass as little fellows upon our streets will be our business men, our men of affairs and of families. Coming are the years which transform our boys into mature manhood. How important it is, therefore, that these boys and young men be guided aright into the responsible citizenship which confronts them—that they be not "led into temptation" and that evil influences, so far as possible, be warded away from them. The environments of every boy should be made as helpful and pleasant as possible.

The latest note of our Government to the Germans rings true to the great principle of American freedom and of the right of every American citizen to exercise same wherever he may lawfully set foot.

It is primarily a declaration of the inherent rights of American citizenship, a nation at peace, regardless of what other nations may be doing at this time, and founded upon well known principles of international law. It speaks in behalf of humanity. This note should receive the hearty endorsement of every patriotic American and stand as the shibboleth of American honor.

With no disrespect whatever to Mr. Bryan, it can be said that it was perhaps best for all concerned that he resigned from President Wilson's cabinet. He was only suited for the place when peace prevailed throughout the world. With the politely cold but necessary diplomatic duties of the position, especially in times of world-wide war, he was not in accord. His nature could not be conformed to the requirements. Mr. Bryan is a great and good man. His talents lie more in the line of a preacher of God's word, perhaps, than any other way. As a life work, he would make one of the greatest ministers of the gospel the world has ever seen.

An echo from the annual convention of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, in session at Cincinnati last week was that the "prohibitionists are after tobacco." In other words, the liquor men want to make the public believe that if the liquor prohibition propaganda is not restrained, it will soon be trying to prohibit the use of tobacco, coffee and other common articles of consumption. Every once in awhile the liquor folks throw out a scare like that, which, however, alarms no sensible person. The damning effects of liquor are not to be compared with anything else on earth except the drug habit, which is now in the province of Government interdiction.

The Ohio Circuit Court is now in session and we have the Grand Jury with us. No session of this body has ever had more important duties before it than at present, especially in regard to ferreting out evidence against the blind tiger and the bootlegger. That these twin agents of evil and almost open violation of law have been operating in Hartford and vicinity and other places in the county, there is no reason to doubt. Ohio county is "dry" territory and the law should be energetically invoked to compel it to remain so. The Grand Jury should leave no stone unturned in its line of duty, in suppressing these evils, together with other crimes committed in some sections of Ohio county. Every good citizen should assist in every way possible.

The selection of the members of our legislative branch of State government is often looked upon as a rather light or unimportant duty, but in reality it is of vital interest to all the people. From the Legislature come our laws which constitute our civil government. One need only to reflect back upon recent sessions of our Legislature to note how the process of this work can be much improved upon. We already have too many laws for effective general enforcement. Several laws of the last Legislature were declared unconstitutional. We need little new legislation, but it should be of the effective kind. There is much room for reflection and wise action along this line.

A GRAVE INJUSTICE.

An item appeared in last Sunday's Owensboro Messenger, in connection with the recent examining trial here of some men accused of "possum hunting," which does Ohio county a grave injustice. We do not know who sent it from here, but it does the county much harm in the eyes of the outside public, just the same.

In the course of the account it is stated that "Ohio county is an armed camp and the citizens sleep with weapons ready at a minute's notice." Ohio county is NOT an "armed camp" and we believe we can state in all truthfulness that few if any of her citizens sleep with "weapons ready at a minute's notice." True, we had an examining trial here of men accused of "possum hunting," but it was conducted in a quiet way, under due process of law, and there was no excitement manifested. Some of the most respected and well known citizens of the county were connected with it. We cannot believe that any of the men connected with this unfortunate affair are lying in wait for each other with deadly weapons at hand, day and night. Ohio county has never been known as the hotbed of feudists and assassins, as the above quoted report would indicate, but her citizens are peaceful and law-abiding. Except some recent occurrences in two or three communities, which are not endorsed by our citizenship as a whole, we are a peaceful people.

Such reports as we mention, going out or coming out from the county, make it appear that it is a dangerous place in which to locate or for a stranger to pass through, which is at variance with the truth in the matter. We hope every citizen will take a personal interest in upholding the good name of our county.

FORDSVILLE VISITED
BY DISASTROUS FIRE

Fordsville was visited by a most disastrous fire which broke out at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night and the town was saved from more damage by the heroic efforts of the citizens and the aid of an engine from the Illinois Central railroad. The fire was discovered in the large three-story tobacco factory of J. B. Westerfield, located just across the railroad northeast from the L. H. & S. L. R. R. depot, and just northwest from the Fordsville Planing Mill Co.

Value of building, tobacco and fixtures, $4,500 with $3,000 insurance. B. F. Wallace, grocery and feed store, just northwest of said tobacco warehouse and his barn, value of buildings and stock $4,500 with insurance of $1,800. With the exception of two small stables and a few coal houses this was the extent of the fire. By hard work of those offering their help, several dwellings, J. B. Westerfield's Tobacco Manufacturing plant and the Fordsville Planing Mill Co.'s plant were saved.

ADVANCES REASONS FOR PREVALENCE OF CRIME
In Kentucky—Lack Of Respect
For Law Most Serious Aspect.

The Louisville Herald says:

"The worst thing in Kentucky is not its prison system, but a lack of respect for law," was the assertion made last night by Daniel E. O'Sullivan, chairman of the State Prison Commission, before a meeting of the Men's Federation.

"I can shoot you dead," he said, pointing to John H. Chandler, "and if I am allowed to select some attorneys I know in this town, and if I am able to raise the money necessary to pay the expenses involved in making such a fight, you can not get a jury in Louisville which will send me to the electric chair, no matter how unprovoked my crime may have been."

"We have many crimes of violence in the State of Kentucky because it is almost impossible to secure a jury which will convict for the crime of homicide.

"Another thing which tends to produce a contempt for law is the fact that what one man may do with impunity, it seems impossible to convict another man for. Why, do you know it is a fact that negro chicken thieves are frequently sentenced for longer terms of imprisonment than white men are for the crime of homicide?

"As an instance—There is a white man in one of the prisons in this State sentenced from one of the Bluegrass counties for offenses against the banking laws. He was charged with appropriating thousands of dollars of money belonging to others. Yet he was hardly in the penitentiary before there came a petition signed by about 500 of the most prominent citizens of that county, asking his parole as soon as it should become legally possible. From the same county, and at about the same time there came to the same penitentiary a negro sentenced for stealing about $7 worth of chickens.

"Now I venture to say that the banker will not be long in the penitentiary, but that the negro, for whom there has not come a single plea for clemency will, I feel I am safe in predicting, serve not less than three years."

OLATON.

June 13.—Some farmers are harvesting their wheat, which bids fair for a good yield.

Mr. C. D. Bean, Miss Myrtle E. Canan, Miss Fronie Saltsman, Mr. Robert Duff, wife and daughter spent Sunday at Sulphur Springs.

Both Sunday Schools here are getting along nicely. Mrs. Paradine Canan was tendered the banner last Sunday.

Miss Alice Murphy and Mrs. Luther Kasinger are on the sick list. Now the wine is gone, what will spring up next? A blind tiger, I fear.

The dedication of the new Methodist church at Olaton will take place next Sunday, June 20th. The morning service and dinner will be in the Morgan Patterson grove, just across the bridge from Olaton. The dedicatory sermon will be in the church in the afternoon.

"Car No. 1."

From Harry V. McChesney, "Car No. 1," as the Owensboro Messenger had it. We want to say that it contained two thoroughbred, well trained Kentucky gentlemen in the persons of Dr. J. T. Hardin and Attorney L. B. Alexander, of Paducah, Ky. We want to say that after August 7th it will be "H. V. McChesney No. 1," and Announced Often Stanley probably "No. 2." The special has met with a great deal of encouragement in the 2d district, the home of the mighty Announced Often Stanley. The good fathers who are raising those bright-eyed boys are going to think well before voting.

J. I. SIMPSON.

It Can't Sting.

The editor of an Illinois exchange is a public benefactor and when he dies the people of his county ought to erect a monument to the honor of his memory. He has discovered a new way to get rid of mosquitoes. He tells you simply to rub alum on your face and hands. When the mosquito takes a bite it puckers his gaze so he can't sting. Then it sits down in a damp place, tries to dig the pucker loose, catches its death of cold and dies of pneumonia.

The Baby's Future.

Here is a little story that was told by Congressman Willis C. Hawley, of Oregon, when the conversation turned to the subject of babies.

Some time since a pretty young mother was gazing fondly at her little six-months-old son, when she suddenly turned to hubby with an inquiring expression.

"Jimmy," said she, "what do you suppose baby will be when he grows up?"

"That's an easy one," was the prompt response of Jimmy. "He will be a politician."

"A politician!" wonderingly returned little wifey, again scrutinizing the infant. "What makes you think that?"

"Because," explained the young husband, "he can say more things that sound well and mean nothing than any kid I ever saw."—[Philadelphia Telegraph.]

Humane Deductions.

No man, because he owns a horse, which he purchased with his money, has any more right to whip or beat the animal and urge him to excessive speed or labor than I have to stand over that same man with whip in hand, if I have purchased his day's labor with my money, and make unreasonable demands upon his physical capacity. We believe it is just as wrong to whip the little boy or girl or strike them with a limb or stick, or slap them over, as it is to whip a horse or ox because they do not go as fast or do as much work as the cruel owner would like.

We saw a mother whip a little babe in a depot the other night. That mother will receive her reward.—[Mayfield Messenger.]

PAID TO HAVE PETITIONS CIRCULATED.

Judge Birkhead, Or Others Directly Interested In His Election, Paid To Have Petitions Circulated Requesting Him To Become a Candidate For The Third Term.

No one who signed any of the numerous petitions circulated in this district more than two years ago requesting Judge Birkhead to become a candidate for the third term should feel honor-bound to support him for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge. Judge Birkhead has not only failed to keep his promise made in advance of his election to the office of Circuit Judge, not to become a candidate for the third term, but more than two years in advance of the election he apparently attempted to take advantage of the voters in this district by depriving them of their right to a choice in selecting a candidate for this office. He, or others directly interested in his election, paid certain individuals to circulate typewritten petitions requesting him to become a candidate for the third term, when there were no announced candidates for the office. The charge that he did this has heretofore been published in newspapers in this district and some of those who circulated these petitions for him have told publicly on the streets, that they were paid to do so.

Judge Birkhead and his nephew, the present Master Commissioner in this county, Ernest Birkhead, will not deny this.

A DEMOCRAT.

CIVILITY.

Don't try to bully the world. It does not pay. Whoever enters the ring for a rough and tumble fight with public opinion is pretty sure, eventually, to be "knocked out." Society is a Brabers, and who would think of encountering with a single pair of fists, a hundred-armed fellow? Better shake the multitudinous hand of the giant, good-natured, than unnecessarily provoke his wrath. Despite the world, if it so pleases you, but as you have to live in the world and to lean on the world, it is just as well to treat it civilly. Shrewd men; who understand their race, never seek a quarrel with society. They understand that it is possible for an individual to lead and quietly control a community, but not to fight it down and not to force it to their way of thinking by means of narrow laws. If you desire to reform supposed or real evils or disabuse your fellowmen of their prejudices, the surest way not to succeed is to resort to denunciation and abuse. Kindness, conciliation and the influence of a good example—these are the true and effective means of reform.

The growing popularity of President Wilson, the increasing strength of the Administration and bright business prospects all over the nation are attested to in reports received by the National Democratic Committee.

Mr. C. E. Morrison, of Fordsville, is spending a few days in Hartford, shaking hands with his many friends here. Mr. Morrison will soon enter the mercantile business at Reynolds Station, this county.

Dr. J. T. Hardin and Attorney L. B. Alexander, of Paducah, and Dr. E. M. Eskridge, of Owensboro, were in Hartford Monday and yesterday. Drs. Hardin and Eskridge were formerly residents of Hartford and their many friends here were glad to see them again.

It seems there has been little heed given to the Marshal's notice to cut the weeds in front of premises in Hartford. People should take pride enough in their town and premises to do this little job before the city ordinance is invoked.

What the Hartford boys did for the Equality team at the baseball park here Saturday was a-plenty. At the end of the contest the score stood 9 to 1 in favor of the home boys. The batteries for Hartford were Rickard and Thorpe; for Equality, Garrett and Barnard.

Judge W. H. Austin, of Safford, Ariz., formerly a resident of Beaver Dam, is visiting relatives and friends in Hartford and Beaver Dam. Judge Austin, though in his 84th year, is hale and hearty and almost as active as many half his age.

There will be preaching at the Methodist church in Hartford next Sunday morning and night by the pastor, Rev. B. W. Napier. Morning subject, "The Immortality of Influence." Everybody invited. Members are requested to bring their envelopes.

Mr. Cleburne Miller and wife, of Dallas, Texas, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bean and other relatives here. They were summoned to Hartford on account of the serious illness of Mr. Miller's father. Judge J. P. Miller, whom we are glad to be able to state, is thought to be some better.

Capt. John G. Keown, who represents the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company, spent a few days the first of the week with his family here. We are informed that Capt. Keown did a "land office" business last week, having sold six threshing machines and two engines. The J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co. is to be congratulated on having the services of Capt. Keown.

The Maccabees Decoration.

The decoration services at Oakwood cemetery by the Maccabees last Sunday were very impressive and interesting. A large crowd of Maccabees and friends was in attendance. The Sir Knights marched from the hall to the cemetery and were met there by Lady Maccabees who also had flowers. The graves of the following Knights were decorated: D. E. Thomas, Alex Barnett, Rev. T. V. Joiner, Wayne Griffin, Henry Martin and Will Pirtle. The graves of Mrs. Cassie Riley Hillard and Miss Carrie Woerner were also decorated by the Lady Maccabees.

Songs were sung and Messrs. A. D. Kirk and E. M. Woodward made beautiful addresses. At the close of the services a committee appointed for the purpose went in an automobile with flowers and decorated the grave of young Almond Tinsley, who recently died, at Alexander cemetery about two miles north of Hartford. It was a solemn occasion for the Maccabees when they carried out one of the splendid fraternal principles which bind the order together.

Mason-Mitchell.

Mr. Z. Wilbur Mitchell and Miss May Lucille Mason were married at Owensboro, Ky., Monday of last week, Rev. Timberlake performing the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Mason, while the groom is the son of Dr. George Mitchell. The bride and groom, who are among Beaver Dam's most popular young people, have the very best wishes of their many friends, even if they did "steal" a march on them. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell returned to Beaver Dam immediately after the ceremony.

Order To Cut Your Weeds.

There is an ordinance against people allowing weeds to grow in front of their premises in Hartford. All citizens are hereby warned to observe this ordinance and cut their weeds at once, and also clean up their premises.

WERE HELD TO ANSWER TO PRESENT GRAND JURY

Fourteen of the fifteen defendants who were arrested on the 4th inst. and arraigned before Judge Jno. B. Wilson, charged with wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously confederating and banding themselves together with each other and with other persons for the purpose and with the intention of intimidating, alarming, disturbing and injuring other persons, were, at the conclusion of the evidence before Judge Wilson last Saturday afternoon, held to answer to the grand jury which convened in Hartford last Monday.

The following five were held under $300 bond each, viz.: E. M. Allen, Herman Render, Henry Adlington, James Morris and Clarence Morris. The remaining nine (Rhy Faught having been released) were each held to answer in the sum of $100 each and permitted to go on their own recognizance, viz.: Charles Overton, Dr. J. L. Smith, Marvin Everly, Claude Allen, J. B. Swain, David Oldham, Jr., Marion Hallas, Frank Tichenor and Lafe Myers.

The five who were required to give bond in the sum of $300 each, executed bond Saturday afternoon and were released from custody to await the action of the grand jury, which is now in session.

As a result of evidence produced in the examining trial herein, two writs were issued against John Iglen and one against E. H. Goodall, charging them with selling liquor in local option territory. Each was arrested and executed bond in the sum of $100 in each case, for their appearance before County Judge Jno. B. Wilson on the 6th day of next month.

Killed By Lightning.

A bolt of lightning struck and instantly killed Louis Heifner, a farmer, two miles east of Polkville, in Hancock county, Monday afternoon. He had taken refuge from a shower under a tree. He had been under the tree only a few minutes when he was struck. The lightning did not hit the tree. Neighbors saw Heifner fall and ran to him but he was lifeless when they reached his side. He was forty years old. A wife and five children survive him.

Prepare For Advanced Standing In Music Before Going Away

To School.

If you intend going away to school and studying music you need at least a few lessons to prepare you for the new fields of work you will find there. I have made a special study of piano for the past three years—two years at National Park Seminary, Washington, D. C., and this last year at the New England Conservatory, Boston, Mass. Here at the conservatory I am studying under the head of the Normal Department and am having special instruction in teaching. I can give you a good foundation in the best and most scientific methods as taught here at the conservatory and can fit you to enter as an advanced student rather than a beginner.

I shall teach piano and voice with the necessary Harmony and Solfège lessons in addition.

I shall gladly answer any questions in regard to lessons, if you are interested. MARY FELIX.

AMERICA PROFITS
IN FOREIGN GOLD*A Constant Stream Of Shining Coin*POURING INTO THIS COUNTRY*Whatever Happens, This Country Will Become World's Greatest Creditor.*FOREIGN CREDITS STRAINED

The New York World says: The manner in which Europe's enormous purchases of war supplies are drawing her gold into the coffers of the United States was strikingly exemplified in Wall Street yesterday by two outstanding incidents.

The first was the arrival at the Sub-Treasury of another $5,000,000 in gold from Ottawa, Canada, for the account of J. P. Morgan & Co., making $15,000,000 in gold which has been brought into the country by this firm in the last ten days. The second, and even more remarkable event, was the drop of French exchange to 5.43½, the lowest point in history.

This means that France's credit in this country has been strained to such a point that 5.43½ francs are required to balance one American dollar in the New York market. The par figures of French exchange are 5.18½, at which 1 franc is worth a trifle more than 19 cents in American money. The franc has now declined until it is worth only a trifle over 18 cents. It has never been valued so low since the New York Stock Exchange was founded.

Financial experts had figured that when French exchange got as low as 5.20% France must export gold to this country. But the exchange has now gone more than twenty points below this figure, in spite of the fact that there have already been enormous shipments of French gold to America and that France long ago established in London a credit of $40,000,000 for the sole purpose of financing her American purchases of supplies.

Just what course will now be taken by France's Finance Ministers is not yet known, but it is evident that she cannot permit her credit in this country to fall much lower without fear of virtual demoralization.

The exchange market yesterday showed plainly that few, if any, of the belligerent nations were much better off than France. Italian exchange also fell heavily, and although it did not reach the low record of the early spring, when Italy was straining every nerve to complete her advance purchases of war material, it was quoted yesterday at 5.91½, while on that previous occasion it touched 5.95. This means, in plain terms, that it took 5.91½ lire yesterday to purchase one American dollar. The lire, at par, is supposed to be worth exactly as much as the franc, or 19.3 cents in American money. It is now worth about 17 cents.

Neither London nor Berlin exchange has been subject to quite such startling drops as this, but London exchange, despite the pouring into America of British gold at the rate of a million dollars a day, does little more than remain steady at 5.78½ to the pound sterling, whereas in normal times it required $4.86% to make up one pound. As for Berlin exchange, normal figures quote 4 marks as worth 95 ½ cents. Four marks will now bring only 82 ¾ cents.

As showing America's position in consequence of this state of affairs, it is only necessary to point out that the banks and trust companies form ing the New York Clearing House reported balances Saturday totalling $183,000,000 more than the legal requirements. Money to loan was in consequence so plentiful yesterday that borrowers had only to pay 2 per cent. on call for it—so eager were the banks to put their huge surpluses to work.

One of the greatest financiers of the United States, discussing the meaning of this situation yesterday with a World representative, declared it meant just one thing, that whether or not the United States enters the war this country will become the world's greatest creditor nation, with a financial supremacy that cannot be questioned.

The outstanding debt of the United States is now $1,028,564,000. Interest on this amount is paid at the rate of from 2 to 4 per cent. annually. This same financier estimates that at the end of the war the belligerent nations will be owing close to $25,000,000,000, on which they must pay annually. In interest, a total sum as great as the present debt of the United States.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

Headquarters A. N. V., April 10, '65.
 General Order No. 9.

After four years of arduous service, marked by unsurpassed courage and fortitude, the Army of Northern Virginia has been compelled to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources.

I need not tell the brave survivors of so many hard-fought battles, who remained steadfast to the last, that I have consented to this result from no distrust of them. But feeling that valor and devotion could accomplish nothing that would compensate for the loss that must have attended the continuation of the contest, I determined to avoid the sacrifice of those whose past services have endeared them to their countrymen.

By the terms of agreement officers and men can return to their homes and remain until exchanged.

You will take with you the satisfaction that proceeds from the consciousness of duty faithfully performed, and I earnestly pray that a merciful God will extend to you his blessing and protection.

With an unceasing admiration of your constancy and devotion to your country and a grateful remembrance of your kind and generous consideration of myself, I bid you an affectionate farewell.

WANT TO REACH RIPE AGE?
 GO TO ROCKVILLE, R. I.

Rockville, R. I., June 12.—Rockville, a village of less than 150 inhabitants, claims to be the best place to live in on earth, and a careful examination of reasons the proud citizens advance to prove this contention, usually is considered convincing by outsiders.

To begin with there are in Rockville eight persons whose ages average eighty-five years; seventeen whose ages average seventy-seven and one-half years; twenty-five in all more than seventy years old. Six are more than ninety. Six couples have celebrated their golden wedding recently and two others are almost ready for celebration.

All the couples except three were born here and almost every one of those enumerated are children and grandchildren and in three instances, great-grandchildren of one-time Rockville residents.

Those few who were not born here have lived here since their birth.

GERMANY'S EFFORTS TO MAKE CITIZENS BEHAVE*Enormous Number Punished For the Most Petty Offenses.

In a recent volume by a distinguished German prison official, he writes that, after a careful study of the figures from 1882 to 1910 he has discovered that one person now living in every 12 in Germany has been convicted of some offense.

Dr. Finkenburg shows that the number of "criminals" in Germany is 3,869,000, of whom 3,080,000 are males and 809,000 females. Every forty-third boy and two hundred and thirteen girls between the ages of 12 and 18 have been punished by fine or imprisonment.

This does not mean that the Germans are criminal or disorderly, but, on the contrary, it shows how absurdly petty are the violations of the law punished by imprisonment.

Their whole history, from Charlemagne down until the last 50 years, is a series of going to pieces the moment the strong hand of authority is taken away from them. The German and especially the Prussian policeman, has become the greatest official busybody in the world.

No German's house is a castle. The policeman enters it at will and, backed by the authorities, questions the householder about his religion, his children at school, the status of the guests staying in his house, and about many other matters besides. If one of his children by reason of ill health is taught at home the authorities demand the right to send an inspector every six months to examine him or her, to be sure that the child is properly taught.

The policeman is in attendance on the platform at every public meeting, armed with authority to close the meeting if either speeches or discussion seems to him unpatriotic, unlawful or strife-breeding.

Professors, pastors and teachers are all muzzled by the State and must preach and teach the state orthodoxy or go!—[New York Telegram.]

AUSTRIAN RULER IN A BAD PLIGHT OVER WAR

Paris, June 12.—The Austrian Emperor has relapsed into second childhood, with its toys, says a well known business man who has just returned from Vienna.

"The Emperor's complete collapse," said this man, "was caused by an incident during a visit to the Emperor recently paid to a Vienna hospital. He was terribly shocked to see a Major formerly belonging to the Imperial suite lying in bed with both arms and legs amputated.

"My poor friend," cried Francis Joseph, "what can I do for you? Anything you care to ask shall be granted."

"Then for the love of God have me shot immediately," begged the mutilated officer.

"This piteous appeal caused the Emperor to collapse. He fell to the floor weeping, and finally swooned. He was carried to the palace, where he lay prostrate for several days. His brain has not since recovered from the shock."

A Serious Error.

Here is a letter received recently by a Georgia game warden:

"Dear Sir:—I don't want this sort of license. I thought I was getting a marriage license. Somebody sent me too Mr. Jones and said he would give me a license, mandy was so mad when I arrived back with this here hunting license she said I didn't have sense enough to get married and she ups and runs off with Bill Johnson and I'm in a hell of a fix. MEXICO HAS HAD SOME

VARIOUS PRESIDENTS

President Porfirio Diaz, of Mexico on May 25, 1911, resigned and went into exile in Europe, and Francisco I. Madero assumed the Provisional Presidency, and was later elected President. General Victoriano Huerta and General Felix Diaz, a nephew of the deposed President, deposed Madero and placed him under arrest. Madero's troops having revolted on February 10, 1913, Gen. Huerta was proclaimed Provisional President. Madero was shot to death about midnight February 23, 1913. Huerta proclaimed himself dictator of Mexico October 14, 1913, and was elected President October 26, 1913, and on July 15, 1914, he resigned and went into exile, and Francisco Carbajal was chosen to succeed him.

On August 14, 1914, General Carranza was named as Provisional President and Carbajal retired. On September 23 General Villa denounced the Carranza government and declared his independence. On October 14 a peace conference accepted the resignation of Carranza and next day the Constitutional Generals met at Aguascalientes and voted themselves into supreme power. On November 1 they selected Eulalio Gutierrez as President for 20 days. Next day Carranza refused to accept Gutierrez as his successor, and on November 9 Carranza proclaimed himself chief of the republic. General Villa announced that he would support Gutierrez.

Is Sickness a Sin?

Lee's Army Order.
 General Robert E. Lee, before starting on the invasion of the North which resulted in Gettysburg, issued the following order to his army:

"No greater disgrace can befall the army, and through it our whole people, than the perpetration of barbarous outrages upon the innocent and the defenseless." It must be remembered we make war only on armed men."

How To Give Quinine To Children.
 FEBRILINE is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteful Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Children rapidly absorb it and adults cannot cause ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness nor ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for 2-ounce original package. The same FEBRILINE is blown in bottles. 25 cents.

A. F. and H. B. Bowen, Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court, rendered at the April term, 1915, in the above cause for the sum of $290.35, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from the 2d day of December, 1913, until paid, subject to the following credits: $25.00 paid January 9, 1915, and $10.00 paid Jan. 29, 1915, and $10.00 costs herein, I will offer for sale by public auction at the court house door in Hartford, on Monday, the 5th day of July, 1915, about one o'clock p.m., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, to-wit:

Frederick, Md.—Rev. Geo. White-side, preaching a sermon on the subject "Take Unto Thyself a Wife," was interrupted by H. C. Rockwell and Miss Nellie Barger, who, taking the preacher at his word, arose from their places in the congregation and marched down the aisle to the pulpit, where the young man requested the minister to marry them. After a whispered conversation the ceremony was performed. The sermon was never finished, for the affair was turned into a reception.

Ottawa, Can.—A bill has been introduced into the House of Commons giving women nurses and all soldiers, whether 21 years old or not, the right to vote. It is likely to pass.

Perth Amboy, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. McFarlan have 17 children. Her husband thought it would be right to hire a housekeeper to help her. As soon as the housekeeper appeared Mrs. McFarlan walked out and deserted the family. When arrested she said that she did not want anyone interfering with her work and would go back if the housekeeper was fired.

New York City, N. Y.—Last Christmas Mrs. Sadie Brown hung up her stocking on the mantel, expecting her husband to place some little gift therein. On Christmas morning the stocking was empty. Unable to forgive this neglect and never recovering from the disappointment, she has sued for divorce.

Hazleton, Pa. Jacob Getski, an armless man, has been arrested for beating his wife. Mayor James Harvey is wondering how the wife will prove her charge when the case comes to trial.

TANLAC PLANT MADE LARGER

Unprecedented Demand For Remedy Necessitates Increased Capacity.

Tanlac, the premier preparation, sold in Hartford by Ohio County Drug Co., by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, and L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown, Ky., and which is being so widely discussed in this State, is being used to-day by more than 150,000 Kentuckians, thousands of whom have testified to the benefits they have gained by its use.

Every walk of life is represented in the small army of Kentuckians who have been benefitted by Tanlac and who have testified to its merits as a medicine of rare value.

The Tylor-Issacs Drug Company, Louisville, has sold more than 30,000 bottles of Tanlac in 90 days.

The success of Tanlac in Louisville is typical of the cordial reception the preparation is receiving in large cities and rural districts where it has been introduced. In the last six months the business has grown to enormous proportions—so large, in fact, that it recently became necessary to increase the capacity of the Tanlac plant in Dayton, Ohio, which had been producing from 8,000 to 10,000 bottles of the preparation daily.

The unusual and heretofore unused formula composing Tanlac is, in a large measure, responsible for the medicine's popularity and success. The ingredients, which are gathered from many sections of the earth, are of known curative value.

One ingredient never before has been used in a proprietary medicine. This probably contributes more to the success of Tanlac than any other one thing. Its curative power is conceded to be most effective and rapid. This ingredient was discovered on an island in the Pacific, west of Mexico.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY INCREASES ITS CAPITAL

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—The Ford Motor Company announced to-day that it had increased its authorized capital stock from $2,000,000 to $100,000,000 and had declared a stock dividend of $48,000,000 payable July 1.

A cash dividend was declared on the original authorized stock of $2,000,000, but the amount was not made public. The stock dividend increases the holdings of Henry Ford, president of the company, by $27,840,000. James Couzens, vice president, receives $5,000,000.

The stock increase brings the issued capital stock of the concern to a valuation of $50,000,000. The remaining $50,000,000, it was announced, will remain in the company's treasury "to be used as conditions demand in the future."

FISH WERE DROWNED IN A VERY CURIOUS MANNER

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that afflicts fish, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is a specific, acting directly upon the blood vessels and various surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by removing the constitutional debilities.

the effect that they had been polarized.

After a thorough investigation Mr. Melin discovered no foreign element that would cause the death of the fish, but he found that in a lake in Northern New Jersey in 1906 the same conditions which confronted the Queens Park Department prevailed. The fish in the New Jersey lake died from no apparent cause, and experiments showed that the annual changes in the water of the lake, known as the lake bloom, caused by sudden changes in the temperature, had absorbed all of the oxygen in the water. A DRASTIC LIQUOR LAW FOR THE NEXT CONGRESS

A Washington dispatch announces that Congressman Martin Morrison, of Indiana, will introduce a very drastic liquor law in the next session of Congress. Its provision is:

"The importation of any spirituous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquors into any State of the United States or into the District of Columbia, or into the territory of Alaska, from any other State, district, territory, country, place or region, domestic or foreign, is forever prohibited."

Under the Morrison plan, which promises to loom up as big before the coming session of Congress as the Hobson resolution did before the last, all of the liquors which a State consumes would have to be manufactured within the State—not a drop could be imported from outside. Morrison proposes that every State shall be utterly and absolutely a law unto itself as to the manufacture, the sale and the use of everything alcoholic.

 MILLIONS INVOLVED IN WHISKEY INVESTIGATIONIndications That Government Has Been Swindled Out of Enormous Sums.

The Louisville Evening Post of Friday says:

It became known here to-day on unimpeachable authority, that a number of distillers and revenue officers in the city of Louisville and the surrounding revenue districts are involved in an investigation of alleged whiskey frauds being conducted by Mr. David A. Gates, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the United States.

Mr. Gates has, for several years, been interested in investigating frauds perpetrated in all parts of the South by distillers and whiskey dealers, and in the past six months revelations of so serious a character have come to the Internal Revenue service that it seems indubitably that the frauds about to be exposed will surpass in magnitude those of the famous Whiskey Ring under General Grant's administration. More than $20,000,000 has been lost to the Federal Government in the past ten years as a result of these frauds.

Col. Briscoe B. Bouldin, Internal Revenue Agent for this district, was asked about the truth of the reports concerning the investigations in this district. He acknowledged that careful investigations, under the immediate supervision of the highest Federal authorities, were still in progress and that a conspiracy leading to extensive frauds, involving some local distillers and whiskey dealers, and some of the members of the Internal Revenue Department, were indicated. Upon being questioned he said that the frauds indicated were similar in nature to those leading to the arrest last week of Knox Booth, Internal Revenue Agent for the Tennessee-Alabama district, and John L. Casper, president of a big distillery in Fort Smith, Ark.

The frauds revealed by the investigations of Mr. Gates have extended throughout all of the Southern States. Mr. Gates has visited Louisville a number of times during the past few months and the Louisville investigation is still under way. Mr. Gates was in Louisville not more than a month ago. The results in the Louisville case Capt. Bouldin declined to discuss; but it is not expected that a decision will be reached in less than two months' time.

Asks Investigation.
The Courier-Journal of yesterday says:

Abandoning his intention of going to Washington to demand an investigation, T. Scott Mayes, Collector of Internal Revenue, yesterday addressed a letter to W. H. Osborn, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, inviting a full, free and public investigation of his acts as collector and of the acts of every man in the service in this district. In a statement Mr. Mayes said if anybody in this district had been guilty of violating the internal revenue laws or regulations, no one was more anxious to know about it than he was, and that he courted the widest publicity for every official act of his as collector.

Card of Thanks.

Must Value Baggage.
The valuation of trunks carried as baggage on passenger trains must hereafter be declared under a new joint tariff that became effective Wednesday on most railroads. For trunks whose valuation is more than $100 a rate of ten cents per $100 will be charged in excess of the first $100.

The new tariff is brought about as a consequence of the Cummins law, which makes railroads liable for losses in full. Heretofore $100 has been the limit of liability. Baggage of the valuation of more than $2,500 will not be carried in baggage cars.

BEAVER DAM.

June 14.—Mrs. Rachel Rhoads, wife of Mr. Daniel Rhoads, died last Monday evening of paralysis. She is survived by her husband and seven children—Messrs. Dr. P. L. Rhoads of Howells, Tenn.; S. P. Rhoads, Lugert, Okla.; W. R. Rhoads, Los Angeles, Cal., and D. B. Rhoads, of Beaver Dam; three daughters—Mrs. Charlie Taylor, Mrs. Dr. S. D. Taylor and Mrs. Elvert Austin. If Mrs. Rhoads had lived till the 30th of this month she would have been 71 years old. She joined the Baptist Church when she was 16 years old and had lived a consistent member of that church until the day of her death. The funeral was conducted by Revs. J. N. Jarman and Birch Shields. It was postponed until Wednesday to await her youngest son, Walter, who arrived from Los Angeles, Cal., Wednesday morning. She was laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery.

Mr. A. K. Miller has sold his interest in the shop and agricultural business known as Williams & Miller to Mr. John Fenster, of Caneyville. Mr. Fenster will make his permanent home in our town. He is a good business man and will be an uplift to the community.

Rev. Robert Creel and family have moved into the Baptist parsonage. He will take the pastorate of the Baptist church and will begin his work as pastor the 3d Saturday in this month.

Mr. Clite Taylor, wife and sister, Miss Mary Taylor, arrived in Beaver Dam Saturday from Roanoke, La., where they had been living for several years. People move to every point of the compass from Kentucky but they finally learn that they did better in old Kentucky than elsewhere.

Mr. Wilbur Mitchell and Miss Ismay Mason were married in Owensboro last week.

Mr. Haywood Pirtle and Miss Myrtle Taylor left last Saturday for Bowling Green to enter the State Normal for the summer term.

Mr. Bert Angle, of Memphis, Tenn., was the guest of Miss Bessie Alford one day last week.

Mr. Sam Paxton, of Safford, Ariz., arrived in town Saturday to visit his sister, Mrs. Thomas Reader, who is very ill of pellagra.

Capt. I. P. Barnard, of Louisville, who has been looking after his business at Taylor Mines, was a very pleasant caller in the home of Mr. W. R. Chapman Sunday. They went over their war reminiscences, as they were comrades in the Confederate army.

BARRETT'S FERRY.

June 14.—Wheat cutting is in progress. The yield, though not near so good as last year, is much better than was expected before the recent rains.

Miss Lee Day, who has been in Dawson Springs for several months, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Janie Day.

Mrs. Robert Phillips and daughter Lora, of Pine Bluff, Ark., are visiting Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petty. They will remain in Kentucky until October.

The Misses Collins, of Hartford, visited Misses Catherine and Elizabeth Davison several days last week.

Master Roy Lee Bennett, of Utica, is visiting his grandfather, Mr. Elbridge Bennett.

Born to the wife of Mr. Lud Grant, recently, a fine boy.

On account of illness Rev. Brown did not preach at New Baynes Sunday.

Rev. Vanhooy, of Dundee, preached an interesting sermon at Beech Grove Sunday night.

Mrs. Owen Quisenberry died this evening at 1:30 o'clock.

BENNETT'S.

June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Leach and child, of near Cromwell, were the guests of Mrs. Leach's mother, Mrs. Rhea Daniel, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newbold and little son, of Hartford, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wallace Sunday afternoon.

Several from here attended the unveiling at Beaver Dam Sunday afternoon.

Mr. James Thompson, of Hartford, was the guest of Mr. Frank Maples Sunday.

PEOPLE OF OUR COUNTRY ARE NOT GOING ABROAD

This Year—Nearly $200,000,000

Will Be Kept at Home By the War.

Nobody is going abroad this year who has not business to transact in Europe. "Abroad" means Europe. There are many other ways abroad, but the European ways were those almost exclusively preferred by the sight-seekers, money-free, confident and compelling American traveler, for whom more things were especially stung than his carelessness cynicism knew. Steamship bookings from January 1 to mid-April were only 30 per cent of what they were last year. That gives one a clew to the proportion of European travel by Americans that was for pleasure only. And what it cost was amazing.

In the first three and one-half months of last year nearly 42,000 first and second-class bookings to Europe were reported. Taking the average of expenditure at $600 each, that would be $25,200,000 already for little more than a fourth of the year, to say nothing of the much larger number of third-class passengers, all of them taking money back to Europe to spend. The passage money itself is spent in Europe, where the vessel is foreign-owned, as, of course, most of them are.

First and last the aggregate expenditure of American money for pleasurable living and traveling in Europe has probably been between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 a year of recent times. The effect economically and financially is the same as if that amount of luxuries were imported in the way of trade. This year, for the first time, that vast sum will be spent in this country, or what is not spent will be saved, which may be even better. And such of it as is spent, up to the whole of it, will be a very fine investment. People will see America who were never west of the Oranges before; many will see the Panama Canal who but for the necessity of traveling this year in their own country, might never have seen it at all. And many in the future will be "bullish" on the United States, not in terms of Stock Exchange values but because they have seen with their own eyes these sources of wealth which make this the wonderful country it is. Also, it is a great stroke of luck for the Pacific Coast Expositions. Many will go there because "there is no place else," and will afterward go less to Europe. [New York Times]

"EVIL EYE" IS FOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS OF POLAND

In Polish villages, tucked away in the mountains, the people lead primitive lives and follow customs hundreds of years old.

When ill they consult certain old women in the village who know the wonderful curative power of certain weeds and who are always called upon when a person is thought to be suffering from the spell of the Evil Eye.

Young girls whose love affairs are not running smoothly, also consult the old women, for they know where to find "lubezky," or the love weed. They tell the girl how to prepare the weed and how it should be administered to her sweetheart.

For bad cases of the Evil Eye there is only one cure. The old woman who is called in the case fetches a kettle of water and three pieces of burning charcoal. With mysterious whispered formulas the charcoal is dropped into the water and if the charcoal sinks, recovery is certain.

The Cross at the Exposition.

The only cross on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco—with the exception of the crucifix in the arms of the monk on the Tower of Jewels—is that which stands on the simple roof-screen over the entrance to the booth which represents the missionary work of the Episcopal church.

This booth is in the Palace of Education and Social Economy, and here the work of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society and other church agencies is exhibited. Visitors to the exposition are cordially invited to search out and use the conveniences there offered.

BRONCHOS ARE LEAVING EAST FROM OUR COUNTRY

The European war promises to mark the final passing of the wild horse of the range—the disappearance of the bucking bronco so long associated with the West. Even now there are no wild horses such as once roamed the ranges, and with the roads being made upon the West by the war, his half-civilized brother, the bronco, promises to disappear. Thousands of horses have been taken from Colorado, Wyoming and other Western States. Not only have the British and French buyers invaded that section, but representatives of the Italian Government have combed the country for months. During the last few weeks an Italian buyer purchased several hundred horses and so great was his haste to get them to his country that they were sent by express from Denver to the East instead of by freight. There they were hurried aboard a steamer to Italy.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KEEPER.

"I am not my neighbor's keeper." you say.

Wrong, brother, wrong—you are your neighbor's keeper.

You have it within your power to instill the doctrine of brotherly love into the heart of your neighbor, to keep before his mind the higher and nobler things of life, to make of him a living monument of what man should be.

There is no man but that values the good will of his neighbors, and all men strive to retain that good will to the end, for it is a universally accepted fact that your neighbor comes the nearest of all to knowing you as you are.

And while your neighbor may not speak of them, he sees your good points and your bad ones, and they are impressed upon his mind even to the most minute and trivial details.

Hence it becomes all the more incumbent upon you to so regulate your life that your neighbor may find nothing therein to divert his mind from the path that leads to uprightness and right living.

Cultivate your neighbor, give him a friendly word and a worldly boost, teach him to feel that you are his "neighbor!" and not simply "the man across the way."

And as you act toward him, so will he in time reciprocate.

And if your acts be uplifting and of high moral tone, he in time may seek your level, with its enlightened atmosphere and its lofty ideals.

Yes, you are your neighbor's keeper, brother.

Let your stewardship be above reproach.

WHERE GIRL SPENDS HER NIGHTS IS IMPORTANT

Ruin is no respecter of persons. Your girl is as liable to be met by as the girl of your neighbor. Ruin, it should be kept in mind, does not overtake any one, for it is not behind, but before. There are two highways plainly marked, and it is only those who travel by the road that leads to ruin who ever reach it. They must go out to meet the destructive thing or they will not find it. So it is not impudent to ask parents where their daughters are to-night. The news reports have lately been filled with accounts of the doings of a daughter of the rich and a daughter of the poor. One was motherless and the other was fatherless, but if the rightful guardian had known where each was every night and seen to it that she was in a safe place, there would have been peace and content in two homes where there is now something very different. A girl is one of the most precious possessions in the world, and she should be guarded as the King's chamberlain guards the crown jewels. Those baubles are not sent sparkling alone upon the street at night, nor left unprotected in public dance halls where greedy fingers may pinch them.
